

I could never be a Christian because ... you don't need religion to be moral
Mark 10.17-27

Why do you think Christians are so concerned about being and doing good?

- to bolster a sense of moral superiority?
- as a stealth recruitment campaign?
- because that's what Christianity is about?

Two key questions:

Do you think there's a universal moral compass?

St James' by the Park

Two key questions:

Do you think there's a universal moral compass?

Where do morals come from?

utilitarianism?

intrinsic?

The moral argument for the existence of God:

1. If God does not exist, there can be no universal moral code
2. A universal moral code does exist
3. Therefore, to have a universal moral code, God must exist

Further questions:

What do you do when your conscience tells you you're guilty?

How do you explain the incredible goodness of Jesus?
